PRAISE FOR THE LINE

Young Adult Library Services Association Quick Pick Nominee for Reluctant Readers

“Hall nicely embeds the history of this repressive future world in a tense narrative that will leave readers intrigued with the mysterious Away. Rachel is an appealing character, and her young voice and the straightforward language make this a good choice for introducing young readers to the science-fiction genre. The abrupt cliff-hanger ending will create demand for the next book in the series.” ~ Booklist

“The author trims her prose for an upper-elementary audience, but the story easily can appeal to teens. Without any hint at current politics, she encourages young readers to think about the tension between freedom and security while keeping them engrossed in a suspenseful story. Well done indeed.” ~ Kirkus Reviews

“Clear, controlled prose builds burgeoning tension while unraveling carefully conceived plot twists, which address themes of totalitarianism, nuclear war, and xenophobia. Dimensional characters and compelling questions unveiled at the dangling finish will have readers awaiting the next installment.” ~ Publishers Weekly

STORY SUMMARY

From www.terihall.com:

In the not so distant future...

Rachel lives with her mother on The Property. The good thing about living there is that it's far from the city where the oppressive government is most active. The bad thing, at least to most people, is that it's close to the Line—an uncrossable section of the National Border Defense System, an invisible barrier that encloses the entire country.

She can see the Line from the greenhouse windows, but she is forbidden to go near it. Across the Line is Away, and though Rachel has heard many whispers about the dangers there, she's never really believed the stories. Until the day she hears a recording that could only have come from across the Line.

It's a voice asking for help.

Who sent the message? What is her mother hiding? And to what lengths will Rachel go in order to do what she thinks is right?

TEACHER'S GUIDE CONTENTS

1. Pre-Reading Activities

Activities and discussion starters to activate students' prior knowledge.

2. Chapter Guides

Chapter guides may be used to encourage whole class discussions, lead teacher-guided reading groups, or to provide structure for students working either in cooperative small groups or independently. The guide is not meant to be assigned to students in its entirety.

Each chapter guide includes:

- ▶ Vocabulary that might be new for your students. Choose a few words from each list and guide students in using context clues to infer meanings.
- ▶ Discussion Starters inspired by Bloom's Taxonomy that lead students from basic comprehension to higher level thinking skills.
- ▶ Predicting where students are invited to make predictions based on their analysis of the characters' traits in the story.

The chapter guides address the following curriculum standards:

Students will:

- √ Use prior knowledge, the text, context clues, to predict, clarify, and/or expand word meanings and concepts
- √ Cite passages from text to confirm or defend predictions and inferences
- √ Make inferences and predictions based on implicit and explicit information drawn from prior knowledge and text, and provide justification for those inferences.
- √ Interpret how situations, actions, and other characters influence a character's personality and development.
- √ Discuss responses to literary experiences with others.

√ Identify the point of view used (first, or third person point of view) and interpret how point of view influences the text.

√ Explain how a story would change if the narrator's perspective changed.

√ Identify implied themes in text and support with evidence from the text.

√ Compare and contrast the same conflict from the point of view of two different characters.

√ Use structural analysis and concept-building vocabulary strategies to understand new words and concepts in informational/expository text and literary/narrative text.

√ Analyze how a position on an issue attempts to balance individual rights and the common good.

Examples:

- Takes a position on federal immigration policy that attempts to balance human rights with national security.
- Takes a position on government surveillance that attempts to preserve individual privacy while maintaining national security.

√ Write in a character's voice (e.g., retells a story using the point of view and voice of a character in the story)

√ Write with a clearly defined voice appropriate to audience.

3. Culminating Activities

Following the chapter guides, you'll find suggested culminating projects that address the eight multiple intelligences identified by Dr. Howard Gardner: Bodily-Kinesthetic, Interpersonal, Intrapersonal, Logical-Mathematical, Musical, Naturalistic, Verbal-linguistic and Visual-spatial. Consider having students choose a culminating activity that best matches their learning styles.

PRE-READING

1. Look at the title and cover. What do you think the title means? What appears to be inside the illuminated building?
2. Read the book's blurb about the story. Make a list of questions you have before beginning the first chapter.
3. Tell about a time someone asked you for help. Brainstorm scenarios where you might hesitate to help someone.
4. As a class, brainstorm a list of school rules that all students are expected to follow. Categorize the rules as shown in the chart below:

Good School Rules	Rules That Should Be Changed

Find a classmate's list that differs from yours. Can you convince your classmate to move a rule to the other side of the chart? Did someone convince you to change your mind?

Discussion Starters:

1. Why did Elizabeth decide not to Cross with Indigo all those years ago? (knowledge)
2. How did Jonathan react to Elizabeth's pregnancy? Why didn't she tell him who the father of the baby was? (comprehension)
3. Elizabeth could have comforted Jonathan "...had she only told him the truth she was afraid to admit even to herself." What truth is she talking about? Think of a time when you've been reluctant to admit the truth even if it would have made someone feel better. (application)
4. When Elizabeth's father first saw Malgam, he smiled and said, "An interesting cross, I'd say." What did he mean? What other groups have historically been forbidden to marry? (analysis)
5. Why didn't Indigo ever come back for Elizabeth? What is a "sixth sense"? What other "sixth sense" instances have you heard about? Do you think this is a real phenomenon? (synthesis)
6. When Malgam was born, why didn't Elizabeth want his genid recorded? Why did the government start the genid program? If Malgam's father had not been one of the Others, would Elizabeth have let Dr. Beller record her baby's genid? List the pros and cons of genid recording. Would you be in favor of or opposed to a program like this? Explain your answer. (evaluation)

Predict:

Elizabeth doesn't think Indigo will ever forgive her. Do you think he will?

Discussion Starters:

1. How does Rachel feel when she sees Pathik? (knowledge)
2. Why is Rachel annoyed with Pathik? (comprehension)
3. “Somewhere inside she was just afraid, but the fury felt better. Think of a situation in which anger might help you get through a scary situation. Is anger easier to deal with than fear? (application)
4. At the end of the chapter, “Pathik turned slowly to face her. He was clenching his jaw; Rachel could see the muscle just below his cheekbone jumping. It made her feel strangely triumphant.” Why? (analysis)
5. What will Kinec and Jab say when they see Rachel? (synthesis)
6. Rachel’s hope of ever Crossing back over the Line fades. Will she have a better life in the Unified States or in Away? Which would you choose? Why? (evaluation)

Predict:

Pathik keeps cautioning Rachel to be quiet because he is afraid they will be caught. Will they?

Discussion Starters:

1. What worried Vivian the most about Rachel? (knowledge)
2. Although Vivian wants to follow Rachel to Away, she knows she can't. Why not? (comprehension)
3. What simple things does Vivian miss about Rachel? Which one would probably surprise Rachel? List three to five things that you know your parents would miss about you and three to five things you think they wouldn't miss. Have your parents make a similar list, and then compare it with yours. (application)
4. Vivian hopes that "Rachel might be able to get [the maps] to someone Away who could use them, someone who could make a difference." Why do you think these maps are so important? What information might they reveal? (analysis)
5. In Rachel's farewell note to her mother, she writes: "There's not a lot of time—not enough to say all the things I want to say." Write the letter that Rachel might have written if she had had more time. (synthesis)
6. What do you think of the characters' names who live in Away? Why do you think they have unusual names, while those from the Unified States have common names? (evaluation)

Predict:

Will Vivian ever see Rachel again? Will Peter return?

Discussion Starters:

1. Who are the Regs? (knowledge)
2. What surprised Rachel about Kinec and Jab's appearance? (comprehension)
3. How does Pathik explain the gifts that some people have in Away? If you could have such a gift, what would it be? If you had this gift, what might your name be? Choose a name for yourself based on a talent or skill that you have. Have your classmates do the same, and post the list. Can you tell who is who on the list? (application)
4. How do you think Jab feels about Rachel? Use clues from the text to support your answer. (analysis)
5. Pathik recognizes Daniel from Rachel's digim, but won't tell her how he knows him. What do you think is going on? Jot down a plausible link between Pathik and Daniel. Have your classmates do the same, and compare. (synthesis)
6. When Pathik asks Rachel: "Are you afraid?" her response is: "Should I be?" What do you think? Can she trust Pathik? Should Rachel be afraid? (evaluation)

Predict:

Will Rachel find her father? What adventures and dangers lie ahead?

Find out in the sequel, Away (Dial Books for Young Readers)!

CULMINATING ACTIVITIES

The following projects incorporate Dr. Howard Gardner's theory of multiple intelligences. Consider having students choose culminating projects that best match their learning styles.

Role-Play (interpersonal)

Review the definitions of the following categories from Chapter 3:

Professional, Private Enterprise, Gainfully Employed, Labor Pool

What might these roles look like in your classroom? Have students brainstorm the way members of each category might act in class. What duties would each group have? Who would be in charge of the class? Who would do most of the work (sharpening pencils, cleaning up, etc.). Who would be allowed to interact with whom?

Prepare a basket of stickers that come in four colors: blue, red, yellow and green. Make sure that there are exactly enough stickers for each student to choose one. Direct students to each choose one sticker from the basket without looking. Once students have affixed the stickers to their shirts, announce the following job assignments:

blue = Profession
red = Private Enterprise
yellow = Gainfully Employed
green = Labor Pool

Have the students go through the class period in their roles. During the last few minutes of the period, let them record their thoughts and feelings about the role pay in a journal. Switch roles each day until all students have had the chance to play out each role. Let students share and discuss their journal entries.

Literature Connections (linguistic)

Compare/contrast The Line by Teri Hall with any of the following works.

- ✓ Animal Farm by George Orwell, a criticism of Stalinism.
- ✓ Brave New World by Aldous Huxley and Nineteen Eighty-Four by George Orwell, both written at the start of the Cold War to criticize totalitarianism.
- ✓ The Butter Battle Book by Dr. Seuss, a criticism of the escalation of weapons of mass destruction.
- ✓ The Crucible by Arthur Miller, a play from the 1950's about the Salem Witchcraft trials. This work was Miller's way of protesting McCarthyism (also known as the Red Scare) when the government routinely put suspected communist sympathizers on public trial.
- ✓ The Giver, Gathering Blue and Messenger, three books by Lois Lowry that take a look at the future of human society.
- ✓ The Lottery by Shirley Jackson, a short story that debuted in The New Yorker in 1948. Jackson's work juxtaposes a friendly, familiar setting against humankind's capacity for evil.
- ✓ Running Out of Time by Margaret Peterson Haddix. A young girl must escape her community in order to save her family and neighbors.

Use a chart like the one below to keep track of the following for each story:

Title:	Author:	Year Written:	Form of Government Depicted:	Issues Addressed/Implied:

Write On (linguistic)

Writers have historically protested government policies in secret. Thomas Payne's pamphlet Common Sense encouraged American Colonists to break free from British rule. Siblings Sophie and Hans Scholl were executed in 1943 for distributing anti-Nazi leaflets at their university in Munich. Create a pamphlet from either Rachel's, Vivian's or Daniel's point of view. Compare the content of your pamphlet with those who wrote from one of the other points of view.

Who Are You? (intrapersonal)

In The Line, Ms. Moore feels nostalgic about people and things from her youth. Rachel finds it difficult to imagine Ms. Moore as a teen. Create a time capsule that provides a snapshot of who you are today. Write a letter to your future adult self describing what is important to you now and your dreams for the future. In addition to your letter, you might include artwork, your own top-10 lists, and photos.

Express Yourself (bodily-kinesthetic, musical, visual-spatial)

Over the centuries, artists have created works to protest government actions and policies. Take a look at Guernica by Pablo Picasso (in protest of the Spanish Civil War bombing of Guernica, Basque Country). Listen to Dmitri Shostakovich's Seventh Symphony, composed in protest of Stalin's oppressive rule, and Piano Trio no. 2, composed near the end of World War II using themes from Jewish music. Choreographers such as Kurt Jooss protested World War I through his ballet The Green Table (1932).

Create your own masterpiece (music, dance, drama, art) as a way to express your views on an issue that is important to you. How can you make people aware of your message?

Raising Orchids (mathematical, naturalistic)

Many people think of orchids as delicate flowers that are difficult to grow. In reality, there are thousands of types of orchids that grow in a wide range of climates. Phalaenopsis (moth orchids) are considered quite easy to grow.

Invite a botanist to speak to your class about raising orchids at school, or visit the United States Botanic Garden site at <http://www.usbg.gov>. Click on “Green Your World” and then “Gardening Tips.”

To find orchids that bloom well in your area, visit the National Capital Orchid Society at www.ncos.us/ncos.

Keep track of orchid data on a chart including distance from a light source, plant growth and daily temperature and humidity (a digital hygrometer that measures humidity may be found for under $20). Once the orchids have bloomed, analyze the data. Which conditions worked best? Which factors seemed to hinder the orchids' growth?
