

Is Marriage for White People?

How the African American Marriage Decline Affects Everyone has been described by Publishers Weekly as a “surprisingly intimate scholarly work [with an] easy-to-read, captivating style” and by Kirkus Reviews as “A triumphant work that demystifies the intersection between compatibility and color.”

This book is appropriate for academic courses related to race, marriage or gender relations and has been acclaimed by leading sociologists, psychologists, historians, and law professors, including William Julius Wilson, Paula England, Eduardo Bonilla-Silva, Mark Regnerus, Nancy Cott, David Hollinger, Susan Fiske, Pepper Schwartz, Randall Kennedy, Charles Ogletree, Michael Wald, Margaret Brining, June Carbone, Richard Thompson Ford, Renee Romano, Donna Franklin, and Deborah Rhode.

Click here for more information!

Available Wherever Books Are Sold

SEPTEMBER 1, 2011

Dutton, A member of Penguin Group (USA) Inc.

